"Stunning flooring systems or panels that create a unique impact for that extra pizzazz"

The latest trend for refurbishment and individuality has broadened the appeal for designer resin flooring in retail, leisure and domestic properties seeking artistic, individual designs of floors in specific colours. These floors create functional and spectacular statements reflecting the individuality of the setting. The creativity of the design is only limited by your imagination.

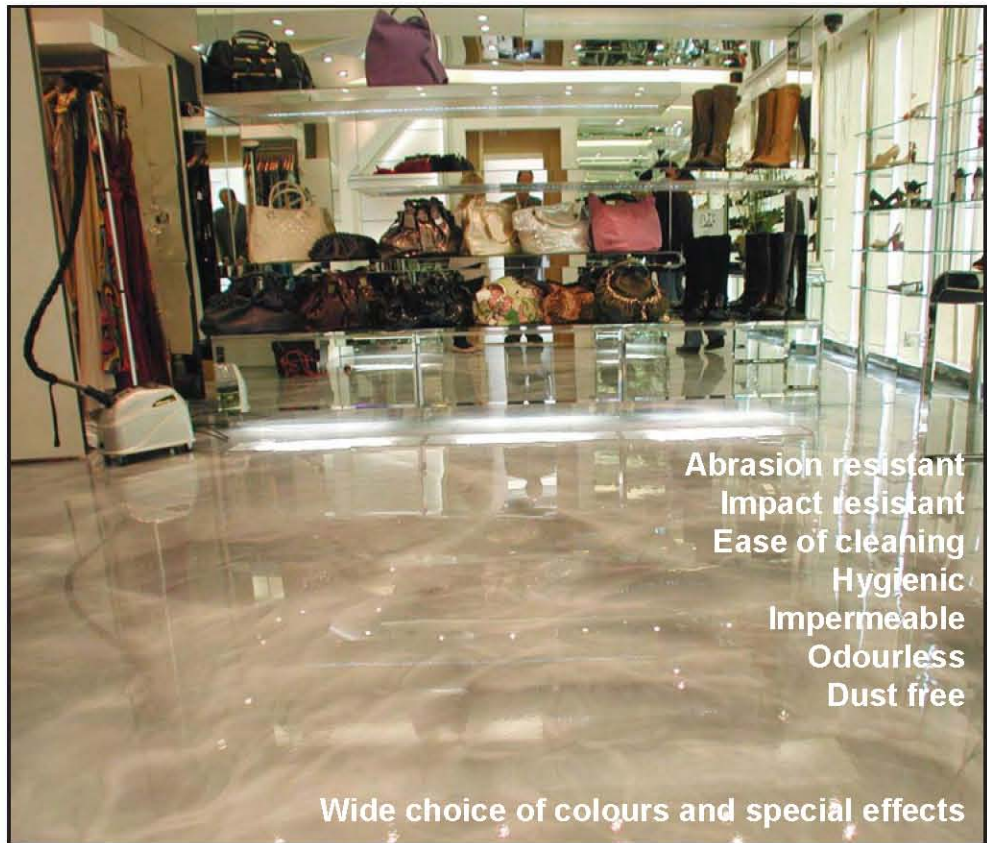

From subtle pearl tones to dynamic fashion design, no two projects are alike. The AddaZing process is a result of chemical interaction which means each is an interpretation of the chosen colour within the application process. Base or background colour and top coats create unique finishes that differ on every application.

Wide choice of colours and special effects

Addagrip produce a range of solutions that provide characteristics for your floor from anti-slip to hygienic, with a choice of colours for demarcation or simply to brighten your life.

The AddaZing formulation extends the creative possibilities to a new dimension with organic fluid patterns and iridescent pigments.

Our latest twist in decorative or designer flooring pushes the technology of resins in a different direction. This new system incorporates metallic and/or pearlescent pigments. Each floor, each mix and every finish is as individual as the people who choose it. The chemistry that makes this possible means that no two finishes are alike, creating fancy floors with a "wow" factor that can be as subtle or as bold as you like
